	The first task in the pyramid's construction was to chisel the huge bricks out of both local and distant rock quarries. It was some men's job to then transport the bricks to the pyramid site and lift them into place. Experts disagree on how long the pyramid took to build, but the project likely took anywhere from 10 to 20 years to complete. The Great Pyramid of Giza was the tallest structure in the world for nearly 3800 years; the Lincoln Cathedral surpassed it in the year 1300.
